

100% PURE HYALURONIC ACID SERUM

HYDRATES & MOISTURIZE “ONE OF NATURES SUPER MOISTURIZER”

This little molecule is the world's finest humectant and a terrific moisturizer to keep skin plump. It holds up to 1,000 times its weight in water holding in moisture, providing cushioning, aiding in tissue repair, holding together the skin structural components collagen and elastin, and helping create a protective barrier against microorganisms.

By keeping the skin moisturized, it facilitates a healthy environment in which to naturally repair and regenerate damaged skin cells.

1.0 oz. / 30ml, $60.00

- Followed by your favorite moisturizer

ingredients and benefits:

Purified Water (Aqua), Hyaluronic Acid High Molecular Weight, Hyaluronic Acid Low Molecular Weight, Phenoxyethanol, Ethylhexylglycerin.

- Hyaluronic Acid, also known as Hyaluronan, greatly contributes to tissue hydrodynamics and the proliferation of skin cells. It naturally absorbs water molecules from the surrounding atmosphere, which improves the moisturization and resilience of skin tissue.
- As a natural component of the molecular structure of the skin, produced by fibroblast skin cells, Hyaluronic Acid replenishes the natural moisturizing agent of the skin and tissue repair.
- The result is well-hydrated and regenerative skin.
- Skin starts losing hyaluronic acid as early as age 18, but wrinkles and other skin damage from hyaluronic acid loss don't generally show up until the late 30s or early 40s. This product will help restore and retain your natural hyaluronic acid.

Hyaluronic Acid is a natural substance in the human body and plays an important role in connective tissue

Hyaluronic Acid imbibes moisture from the surrounding air to retain it in the skin

The combination of both low and high molecular weights ensure comprehensive benefits from the hyaluronic acid ingredient
